

Process Development Solutions Since 1972

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Matt Sylvester Appointed Project Manager/Technical Sales

MARS, Pa., October 22, 2024 — Mars Mineral has named Matt Sylvester project manager/technical sales. He brings with him over 16 years of experience in production management (PM), logistical planning, and customer relations.

Before joining Mars Mineral, Sylvester was operations manager at Forney LP., a construction materials testing equipment company. His PM, lean manufacturing, and supply chain oversight expertise complements Mars Mineral's commitment to providing industry-leading pelletizing solutions.

President of Mars Mineral, Clayton Woodward, said, "We are thrilled to have Matt join our team. His extensive experience and dedication to quality-driven processes will be instrumental as we continue to innovate. Matt's hands-on approach and focus on customer satisfaction align with our mission to provide top-tier solutions in pelletizing technology."

###

Media Contact: Kevin Leczkowski, 724-538-3000 or kevinL@woodwardinc.com

About Mars Mineral

Mars Mineral, based in Mars, Pa., USA, designs and manufactures custom pelletizing equipment used to agglomerate waste byproducts from industrial processes into materials that support a circular economy. The company provides material testing, engineering services, and technical support to meet diverse industry needs.